The difference: The Democrats are running the campaign on promises; the Republicans on their deeds.

There is nothing the Democrats dread so much as an honest vote and a fair count. These grind like everything.

Every time a prominent Republican makes a speech, the Democrats get mad. They don't like Republican speeches. They hurt. There's too much truth in them. They raise up the Democratic record, and that is too mean for anything.

The Democrats have been busy for more than ninety days trying to show why there should be a change in the administration. The only reason yet discovered is that the party is hungry for office, and must have some of the political leaves and fishes or die. The people must decide whether or not this is a sufficient reason why the Confederates should ride into power.

The Washington Post, Democratic, proposes a cabinet for General Hancock. It wants Jere Black for Secretary of State. Well, that ain't so bad. But it wants Tilden for Secretary of the Treasury. Here is malice aforethought against the treasury. Samuel will make the treasury sick. He has made sick railroads, sick stockholders in the elevated railway company, and would soon make the treasury tremble with fear that it would share the same fate. Put Sam in as Secretary of the Treasury, and there would be "millions in it" for him.

The election which takes place in Indiana on Tuesday, the 12th of this month, will be one of great interest to both political parties. A full set of State officers are to be elected, Representatives in Congress, and a Legislature which will elect a United States Senator. The eyes political of the whole country are now directed toward that State. It is considered the key to the situation—the battlefield of the campaign. If the State should go one way or the other by a decided majority on Tuesday of next week, the party gaining the election then will carry it in November; but should this vote be close, the result in November will be surrounded with doubt.

The Republicans have carried Indiana four times at Presidential elections since the party was organized, the votes from 1860 to 1876 being as follows:

1860.
Abraham Lincoln (Republican).....	129,033
Stephen A. Douglas (Independent Demo- crat).....	115,500
J. C. Breckinridge (Democrat).....	12,226
John Bell (Constitutional Union).....	5,363
1864.
Abraham Lincoln (Republican).....	150,422
George B. McClellan (Democrat).....	130,233
1868.
U. S. Grant (Republican).....	170,548
Romero Seymour (Democrat).....	168,180
1872.
U. S. Grant (Republican).....	186,117
Horace Greeley (Liberal and Democrat).....	168,622
Charles O'Connor (Democrat).....	1,117
1876.
S. J. Tilden (Democrat).....	213,521
R. B. Hayes (Republican).....	203,011
Peter Cooper (Greenbacker).....	9,533

This vote shows that if the Republicans could have a fair vote, and the importation from Kentucky of Democratic tramps could be stopped, the Republicans could carry the State. But understanding that Indiana is of the utmost importance to Democratic success, the Democratic managers are using every possible means to carry the State, and therefore hundreds of Democrats from Kentucky will be sent to Indiana for use on the election day. The Republicans are deeply aroused, and every vote of the party will be drawn out, so that should the Democrats carry the State election it will be by a very small majority.

Recently, the Memphis Avalanche, a Democratic paper, said:

"Two thousand ploughs arrived on one steamer from the North a day or two since. What this country wants is more ploughs and less partisan politics to the acre."

To this paragraph, the Atlanta Constitution, another Democratic paper, answers: "Yes, that is so, but we don't want more ploughs from the North; we want more plough factories and every kind of factory in the South to make the articles we need." That is just what the Republicans want the South to do—to build up its manufactures, to use more plows and less shot-guns, to manufacture the article it needs, to make its own cotton cloth, to build foundries, to erect workshops, to establish schools, and to make the planter and the manufacturer move along in the same channel of prosperity. This is the Republican idea of what the South should do, but the Bourbon Democracy is against all this. It is the aim of the Democratic party to use more shot-guns and bowie knives in the South than plows and machines. It wants the people there to remain just as they are—politically, intellectually, and materially. The Democrats want the South to buy all its plows of the North; the Republicans want the South to build up its own industries and to make its own plows, to develop its own resources, and like the North to become prosperous, intelligent, and happy. But the dissipated Democracy practically does not want this condition of things. Why? For this reason. Just so soon as the people of the South have more plows than Democracy to the acre, when they go to work to raise more cotton, to build more school houses, to erect more factories, the Democracy will lose its hold on the people there, and the majority will be Republican. The Democrats know this. They know that when the shotgun is exchanged for the plow, when school houses are multiplied, when intelligence and manufacturing march hand in hand, when men vote as they wish and have their votes honestly counted, that the days of the Democracy in the South are numbered and its fate forever sealed. Bourbon Democracy and intelligence and thrift, won't mix any more than oil and water. Therefore, it is for the highest interest of the Solid South to vote for the Republican candidate for President, and not for a party whose chief aim is to raise partisan politics instead of more cotton.

Last May a resolution was offered in the House of Representatives giving preference to Union soldiers on the District of Columbia police force; and for the purpose of showing how much practical sympathy the Democrats have for the Union soldier, we give the vote on that resolution, and the reader will bear in mind that every Republican voted for it:

Confederates.....	For. Against.
Border Democrats.....	3 12
Northern Democrats.....	7 29
Republicans.....	2 9
Totals.....	25 50

As another test of the sincerity of the Democrats in their professed love for the defenders of the country, a resolution was offered in the Senate in April, 1879, forbidding the discharge of Union soldiers, except for good cause, and here is the vote which can hardly do less than astonish the supporters of Hancock:

Confederates.....	For. Against.
Border Democrats.....	0 13
Northern Democrats.....	0 12
Republicans.....	26 31

Then, again, on the same day there was a resolution offered in the Senate that there should be no Confederate soldiers employed about the capital in lieu of Union soldiers, a very wise and just measure, but when the vote was taken in the Senate it stood as follows, and mark how solidly the Democrats stood up for the Confederates, and how unanimously the Republicans defended the rights of the Union soldier:

Confederates.....	For. Against.
Border Democrats.....	0 13
Northern Democrats.....	0 12
Republicans.....	26 31

Once more. A motion was made in the Senate to repeal the law which prohibits the appointment of Confederate soldiers to positions in the United States Army, and for that repeal the vote stood:

Confederates.....	For. Against.
Border Democrats.....	0 13
Northern Democrats.....	0 12
Republicans.....	26 31

These facts, taken from the official records of Congress, show how closely linked are the sympathies of the Northern Democrats and the Confederates. They are one and inseparable, even when it comes to giving preference to ex-rebel soldiers over wounded Union soldiers. This is the element which is seeking the control of every department of this government.

THE MACK CASE.

Is there to be any end to the Mack case? This is the question. Twice the case has been tried. Once she was convicted of murder in the first degree, and the supreme court granted her a new trial. The second trial has just been concluded at Jefferson, whence a change of venue was taken, and the result is a disagreement of the jury as to the guilt or innocence of Mrs. Mack. It is not for us to pronounce judgment on this woman. She may be as guilty as Dickerson, or as innocent as Watson, but we must confess that circumstances seem to be against her, but that has nothing to do with our present purpose. This case has already been a financial burden to Rock county, and it appears that the burden will still be made heavier. But for this one is to blame. It is the duty of District Attorney Sale to prosecute Mrs. Mack on the charge of the horrible murder by which poor George Mack met his death; and it is the right of Mr. Winans and Mr. Fethers to defend her so long as they believe her innocent and are engaged to meet the State on that issue. Messrs. Bennett & Sale have done all that a thorough knowledge of the case, ability, and skillful tactics could do to convict her. They have given the case much study. They have been faithful to the interest of the State. They have not shown any weakness in any respect in the management of the case. They have done their whole duty from beginning to end. On the other hand they have been met by Messrs. Winans and Fethers, one of the strongest teams for so important a case that this county can produce. As counsel for Mrs. Mack they have brought into exercise every power they possessed to secure her acquittal. The defense has been managed from first to last with skill and matchless energy. In this they did as faithful counsel should do, and for the time being they have won a victory. Well, how will it end? This is what a great many people want to know. Some want to know out of curiosity, and others want to know on account of the expense it will incur to Rock county. It is very likely that the end is nigh. Mr. Sale will be prepared to go on with the case at any time, and Messrs. Winans and Fethers stand ready to manage the defense. All this may be unfortunate, but it cannot be helped and no one is to blame. No power on earth can compel Mrs. Mack to disclose what she knows about the tragic fate of her husband, even if she knows anything more than she has told, and the public is not yet in a condition to put implicit confidence in all that Dickerson has said about it. Here the matter rests. This is one of the experiences which a county meets with now and then. The State is bound to prosecute a person charged with murder, and the person charged with so grave an offense has a right to employ the best counsel that means will secure, and the contest between the State and the accused is often, in such an important case, long and expensive. The Hayden murder case in Connecticut last year, cost nearly $30,000 and the jury disagreed at last, and the Mack trial has cost only from $5,000 to say $10,000 or $12,000, and Mrs. Mack is where Hayden is, out on bail with a disagreement of a jury behind her. The humorous point of the case, if it is not too hard to put that construction upon it, is the relative condition of Dickerson and Mrs. Mack. He turned State evidence, to shield himself as much as possible, and to place the responsibility of the murder largely upon the woman. Today he is serving a life sentence for the part he took in the murder, while Mrs. Mack has a fair chance of being discharged of all complicity in the crime. Had he been as shrewd as the woman, he would have fared better, and so would have the county.

NEW YORK.

The Work Snowing Down—Getting Ready for the Final Charge.

New York, Oct. 3.—The next meeting of the National Republican committee will take place immediately after the Indiana election, and final arrangements will be made for the conduct of the campaign. The conference will be a notable one. All the distinguished men of the party are expected to be present, and among them General Grant. The local demonstration will be a magnificent one, and worthy of the occasion. Republicans are hopeful of carrying New York, and have made the amplest preparation for vigorous work during the closing days of the campaign.

The Democracy of New York have not been idle in the days that have passed. They are bringing out their heaviest artillery, and appear disposed to make a noise if they do not execute. During the week the State committee have announced a number of Democratic orators in various parts of the State. Senator Francis Kernan will speak at Oswego, Oct. 5; at Rochester, on the 7th; at Corning on the 9th; and at Newburgh on the 12th. Col. John W. Forney, the apostate speaker at Corning with Senator Kernan on the 9th; and at Poughkeepsie on the 15th; and at Newburgh on the 16th. General B. B. Butler will speak at Norwich on Wednesday afternoon; at Binghamton on the evening; at Elmira on Thursday; at Danbury on Friday; and at Olean on Saturday. F. E. Stanton, of Kansas, will speak in Canandaigua on the 5th inst, and at Rochester, with Senator Kernan, on the 7th. Speaker Randall will address meetings in the State from the 10th to the 23d inclusive.

WATCHING.

New York Politicians Watching the Campaign in Indiana.

New York, Oct. 3.—The progress of the campaign in Indiana is watched here with great interest by both political parties. Democratic politicians claim the State, and a few of them who have money are putting it up on the result. General Arthur who is in constant communication with friends in that State, does not appear to be seriously alarmed at the situation, and talks of the approaching election with a confidence which can only come with a knowledge of a favorable state of facts. At National headquarters, too, there seems to be that buoyancy of deportment which denotes the absence of impending evils. All the letters received and oral statements made in that depository of information are of a restful and soothing character. This tranquility arises in part from a consciousness of a favorable situation of affairs, and in part from the fact that the best organization exists there for the accomplishment of the work to be done between this time and October 12. After that time Logan, Cookling, Grant, Schurz, John Sherman, and a number of other political lions will be brought to labor in this State.

VIRGINIA.

The Republicans Working for a Successful Campaign in Virginia.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The new departure of the Republicans in Virginia has materially changed the aspects of the canvass there, and has given both factions of the Democracy to understand that the Republicans, contrary to expectations, are making a very careful, earnest and quiet canvass in the Old Dominion, with the hope of securing some electoral votes as a result of the bitter war between the Flanders and the Readjusters, and with the strongest probability of carrying two, if not three, Congressional districts. The Mahone people have been somewhat arrogant, confident in relying upon the support of a large portion of the unqualified Republican vote, but the Republican managers, after careful consideration, have decided that in view of the bitter feud between the Democratic factions, there is a strong fighting chance of carrying Virginia for the Garfield and Arthur electoral ticket, and a certainty of gaining some Congressional districts.

HOW THE MONEY GOES.

The Contributions of Judge Hilton and August Belmont—Slocum Goes to Indiana.

WASHINGTON, October 2.—It is reported among Democrats that Judge Hil-son, of A. T. Stewart & Co., has given $100,000 to the Democracy, and that Belmont has given $20,000.

General Bartram, chairman of the Democratic National committee, telegraphed to Europe for General Henry W. Slocum, who commanded the Twentieth Army Corps during the war, to come home. He did come, and went with $300,000 in money to Indiana for the Democracy, and is there now spending it or directing its use in whole or part.

MORMON SUFFRAGE ACT.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Oct. 2.—The Mormon suffrage act was considered void, because it does not require women to be taxpayers, citizens of lawful age, or to have a stated residence in the county or precinct, all of which is required of male voters. The mandamus was sought to compel the registration officers to strike women from the lists on these grounds. Justice Hunter and Emerson denied the writ, holding that it will not apply properly in such a case, because the registration of votes is not a ministerial act. They did not pass on the validity of the act itself. Justice Emerson held that a woman suffrage act to be invalid; that mandamus will apply to compel the registering officers to strike off illegal votes, and that the writ ought to issue.

BOYS AND CIGARS.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 3.—Two boys smoking cigars in an old stable near James Mack's ship yard, on the river front in the eastern portion of this city, this afternoon, dropped the stumps of their cigars in the shavings and the stable caught fire. The flames soon caught in Mack's property, and his extensive saw mill, blind factory and large quantities of lumber were burned. A number of dwellings were slightly damaged. Loss $50,000. Insurance for one-fourth that amount in local companies. The heat was so intense that a number of firemen, and John I. Covington, insurance adjuster, who lives near, were overcome by it.

The wind blowing from the north prevented the fire from reaching the boats in course of construction on the docks. The fire will not delay the work on these boats. Other contracts to build must of course be delayed.

FATAL FROG.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—Timothy Connell, a fireman, met with a horrible death this morning. He was turning a switch on the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton road within the city limits, when his foot became fastened in a frog. A train was backing up and the poor man was compelled to see certain death coming, with no means even of giving an alarm that could be heard. He was horribly mangled, being crushed by the entire train. He was married and lived in this city.

RUN OVER.

FORT WAYNE, Oct. 3.—The Chicago express on the Fort Wayne Road, due here at midnight, last night ran over two men who were asleep on the truck in a state of intoxication. One was William Quickenbush, aged 30 years. He leaves a wife and three children. The other was a young man known only as French, and had lived near there for some time. He was regarded as a hard character.

THIEF CAUGHT.

LA CROSSE, Oct. 2.—John Foster, a notorious burglar, was caught on the island opposite this city by Chief of Police Hatch to-day, and a large quantity of stolen goods recovered which were identified as being stolen from Minnesota City and other points along the river. The prisoner will be taken to Winona for trial.

SENATOR CONKLING.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 3.—Senator Conkling visited Chester Driving Park to-day, and took a drive on the course behind the famous Maud S, in company with her trainer, Bair.

KILLED HIS UNCLE.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—Edward Jones, a young man of 21 years, had an altercation yesterday with Andrew Finley, his uncle, residing three miles from Salem, Ill., and discharged the contents of a shotgun into his breast, killing him instantly. Jones is still at large.

PORK AND LARD.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The Commercial Advertiser says: The condition of the pork market is such that no sales were effected on the produce exchange this morning, small holders being afraid to sell. For October pork the price bid was $16.50. The settling price for to-day was fixed at $18. It appears likely, according to the opinion of many large operators, that as old pork is considered out of the market except by large holders, there will be an advance on November sales when new pork comes in. It is an open secret that one dealer holds nearly all October pork, and will, it is thought, be able to keep up the price until the new pork comes in. Lard is said to be in a worse position than pork. Holders of buyers' options have a great advantage over holders of stock, which is said to be not more than 5,000 barrels at immediate call. The stock in Europe is reported to be short.

A Rochester, Fayette Mich. writes: Your Electric Oil gives good satisfaction in this place, send me ten dollars worth by express, and oblige.

CARRIER PIGEON RACE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Of the 100 carrier pigeons which started in the race from Pine Grove, Pa., at 7:30 A. M. to-day under the auspices of the Hudson County Antwerp Club, 95 had arrived home before 5 P. M. There were twenty-five prizes offered, and the flock was the largest ever started in this country. The distance was about 122 miles, and the average time a mile of the first bird was one minute thirty-one seconds. The average time a mile of the twenty-fifth bird was 1 minute 40 1/2 seconds. Nine birds owned by J. B. Welsh won the first, second, fourth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, and twenty-fifth prizes. Eight birds owned by L. Offermann won the third, fifth, sixth, sixteenth, twenty-first, and twenty-fourth prizes. One of W. I. Sorrell's eight birds won the seventh prize. Five of W. V. Vander's birds won the eighth, seventh, eighth, nineteenth, and twentieth prizes. Two of J. W. Moore's birds won the ninth and tenth.

Remarkable Success.

The sciences of medicine and chemistry have never produced so valuable a remedy for the treatment of kidney disease as the accidental discovery of the vegetable contained in Day's Kidney Pills. Coughs.

"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are used with advantage to alleviate Coughs, Sore Throats, Hoarseness and Bronchial Affections. For thirty years these Troches have been in use, with annually increasing favor. They are not new and untried, but, having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age.

This Troche—"Brown's Bronchial Troches"—act directly on the organs of the voice. They have an extraordinary effect in all disorders of the Throat and Larynx, restoring a healthy tone when relaxed, either from cold or over-exertion of the voice, and produce a clear and distinct enunciation. Speakers and Singers find the Troches useful.

A Cough, Croup, Catarrh of Sore Throat requires immediate attention, as neglect often results in some incurable Lung Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" will almost invariably give relief. Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are injurious. The genuine "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are sold only in boxes.

BRIEFLETS.

—Jack Frost took a big nip last night.

—Dr. W. Moore, now of Chicago, spent Sunday with his friends in this city. He reports a prosperous practice in Chicago, and is looking well.

—The next on the amusement calendar is Barney McCauley, who is to appear at the Opera house on the 27th inst. Shows seem scarce this month.

—The sad news reaches here that Miss Emma J. Smith died last night, at Newark, Conn. She is the daughter of J. M. Smith, of this city.

—Another case of wife beating last night on the street. The woman is said to be in rather bad condition, as the result of her being knocked down and kicked.

—The trial of Mrs. Fogarty for the murder of her husband is set for to-day at Elkhorn, but little will probably be accomplished beyond getting a jury, and opening the case.

—Thomas Corrigan, arrested by Constable Pratt for being drunk and disorderly, pleaded guilty in the Police Court this morning, and was sent to jail for a week, because devoid of wealth enough to pay his fine.

—To-morrow the delegates to the State Baptist Association will begin to arrive. The session will open to-morrow evening with a sermon by Rev. W. G. Inman, of Fox Lake. All the meetings will be held in the Baptist church here.

—Several of the jurymen in the Mack case who voted for her acquittal, are said to have bidden her good-by at the depot, and shaking hands with her declared they had done what they could to save her believing that she was guiltless of the great transgression.

—The demand for Thomas & Griffith's goods has increased so that more help has become necessary in their shoe factory, and the force has consequently been increased, making double the number of employees with which the factory started.

—Last night a fellow full of drink applied to Max Pottner's hotel for lodging, was refused, kicked up a row, was himself kicked out of doors, and then turned about and kicked in the panel of the big front door. There was quite a kick about the affair.

—A man named Fred Leutz, employed on Myers' new building slipped and fell, on a story to-day, and was knocked insensible, and was almost willing to admit himself to be dead, but as the doctor came in sight he sprang to his feet and walked off apparently all right.

—Grand Worthy Templar Phillips spoke to a large gathering at Center on Friday night last, the public meeting being under the auspices of the Temple of Honor of that place and proving a success in all respects. Yesterday Mr. Phillips preached in Beloit, in place of Rev. Mr. Eaton, who has lately been appointed to the pastorate of the Methodist church at Madison.

—Miss Minnie Ross, daughter of William Ross, died at her home in this city about ten o'clock last night. She has been very ill for some weeks past, and the death does not come therefore without warning. She was a young lady of fine character and greatly respected and esteemed by many in this city, where she has lived from girlhood. She was a member of the First Methodist church. The funeral services will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, Revs. Sewell and Chapell officiating.

—The plan for sending militia companies from Chicago to Atlanta seems not to be meeting with very much success, and the Times says to-day: "It must be confessed that the outlook at the present time is not rosy in any sense, and that unless something happens during the present week to give the movement form and shape the project will undoubtedly be abandoned." "Has it come to this, that Janesville has to set an example in enterprise to the great metropolis?"

—Next Sunday will be the last of the present conference year of the Methodist folk. The conference will meet at Appleton next week, and will probably occupy more than its usual week, there being the Haddock-Carhart trial to dispose of, and other cases of smaller import, all of which will take time. It is still of course, a matter of guesswork as it always is, whether the present pastors of the churches here will be reappointed, or whether there will be new men sent here.

—A large bay team got frightened at the cars near the depot this morning and started on the run down Main street with a demount wagon attached. The driver was a merry young man, and when he found he could not stay their speed he reined them straight into the fence, the team coming to a standstill with a crash, breaking the neck-yoke and dash-board into bits, and throwing the driver out between the horses. He didn't get dizzied though but as soon as he struck, he grabbed each horse by the bit, and quieted them down. It was neatly and bravely done.

—The other evening as a young lady and gentleman were driving homeward from a party, two masked highwaymen sprang from the roadside, with glittering revolvers, caught the horse by the bit, and so successfully frightened the young man who held the reins as to cause him to lay on the whip and send the horse into a run. The boys who thus played the part of highwaymen thought it a most capital joke, but how much funnier it would be if the young jokers were arrested with intent to rob or some other such little offense. It would be funnier yet if the jokers had been greeted with a whizzing bullet from the driver. Perhaps they would have found out then that their own nerves are liable to quiver sometimes.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRESTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

The thermometer at 6 o'clock last night stood at 49 degrees above; at 1 o'clock a. m. to-day at 40 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a. m. at 34 degrees above; and at 1 o'clock p. m. at 57 degrees above. Clear.

The indications to-day are for the upper lake region, southerly to westerly winds, clear or partly cloudy weather, slight rise, followed by falling barometer, and stationary or slight rise in temperature.

George Merlith, Jersey City, writes: The Spring Blossom you sent me has had the happiest effect upon my daughter, her Headache and Depression of Spirits has vanished. She is again able to go to school and is as lively as a cricket. I shall certainly recommend it to all my friends.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY.

Yesterday word came from Beloit that Louis Rothle was wanted there to answer to the charge of larceny, it being claimed that while in the employ of Gns Gentes he robbed a fellow-laborer, of a watch, a box of cigars, necktie, scarf pin, and some other valuables. Fred Comstock found the young man here, having been in the employ of Tom Graham for two or three days. Rothle gave the officer a lively run, but couldn't get up speed enough to escape, and was safely locked up. Rothle is said to have a bad record, having served time for similar offenses before this.

The Summer Statistics.

One great reason why hot weather is so debilitating lies in the fact that the body is exhausted by the labors of the year, and it is natural that this should be so. In order, therefore, to resist this tendency to exhaustion it only becomes necessary to re-invigorate the body which can readily be done by one or two bottles of Warner's Safe Tonic. The remedy is being extensively used by physicians for this purpose and is for sale by druggists all parts of the world.

POLITICAL POINTS.

At Clinton Saturday night there was a goodly sized gathering at the Republican meeting, although the rain fell heavily. A brass band furnished the music, and Hon. D. G. Cheever presided. Captain S. J. M. Putnam set the ball rolling by a pretty little speech, and was followed by Hon. J. B. Cassaday who gave a most excellent address in which he handled wisely and logically the subject of the "Heresy of State Rights." The meeting was a success despite wet weather.

At Lima on the same evening there was a very successful and happy rallying of Republicans. A Glee Club furnished the music, Fred Gould presided, and Hon. Pliny Norcross did the speech-making.

He was closely listened to, and awakened much enthusiasm.

I drank the richest draughts, and ate whatever was good. Fish and flesh, and fowl and fruit, supplied my hungry mood; But now liver affects me, and I'm all over pain.

If Spring Blossom cures me, I'll not live so high again.

PERSONAL.

—Hon. S. J. Todd, of Beloit, was in the city to-day.

—Judge Conger has gone to Milwaukee to hold court for Judge Small to-day.

—Miss Ida Davies left this morning for South Bend, Indiana, to resume her studies at Notre Dame.

—Darius Allen left to-day expecting to give political talks at Shopshire, Elgin, Ill., DePue, O., and then in New York state.

—Attorneys Sale, Hyzer, and Doe left this morning for Elkhorn to attend the Fogarty case. A number of witnesses also went thither.

—W. H. Brace, a former Rock county man, now a resident of Detroit, and a leading wholesale grocer of that city, was in the city to-day. He is visiting his brother O. D. Brace, of Fulton.

—Rev. Jank L. Jones is packing and shipping his household effects to Chicago, and expects to remove thither with his family by Wednesday. They will board, for the present, with the expectation of soon securing a house to suit them in Hyde Park.

—Hon. O. B. Thomas, of Prairie du Chien, member of the State Senate, a lawyer of large business and great prominence, and one of the best campaign speakers in the State, was in the city this afternoon on his way to Broadhead, where he speaks for the Republicans to-night.

When visiting New York City you must not forget that the Grand Central hotel is now kept by Keefer, McKimie & Co. of the famous Manhattan Beach Hotel. It has been thoroughly renovated and refurbished throughout.
